Archway selected for Kearney Area Community Foundation grant

Kearney, Neb. - The Archway has been selected by the Kearney Area Community Foundation for a matching grant to replace an aging projector in the Archway exhibit.

Marketing Coordinator Jace Robinson said, "We couldn't be more thankful for this grant from the Kearney Area Community Foundation to help us update the technology that makes the exhibit at The Archway unique."

The projector being purchased with this matching grant will replace an outdated projector that runs in the "Drive-in" section of the exhibit. "As is with most older technology, we started to run into obstacles locating parts and bulbs to keep the current projector operating. With this Kearney Area Community Foundation grant, we are able to purchase a quality projector that has readily available parts and bulbs that are more affordable and much more energy-efficient," Robinson said.
